SURFACE WATER ACIDIFICATION PROGRAMME

The Surface Water Acidification Programme (SWAP) was a tripartite research programme (funded by the Central Electricity Generating Board) conducted by the scientific academies of the participating countries: the Royal Society (for UK), the Norwegian Academy of Sciences and Letters and the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences. The objective was to investigate claims that sulphur emissions by UK industry and especially by the CEGB were adversely affecting fish in Scandinavian waters.

Southwood was Acting Chairman for the first meeting of the Management Group and on the death of Sir Maurice Sugden became Chairman from January 1984. The Programme Director was B.J. (Sir John) Mason. Research programmes were established and meetings held in Stockholm and Oslo. The interim meeting was held in Bergen in June 1987. The final Conference hosted by the Royal Society and sponsored by the three academies, was held in London 19-23 March 1990, followed by the final meeting of the Management Group in Oxford 24-26 March.

The papers cover the period 1983-1990 and include correspondence with colleagues and officials of the three academies, reports and position papers, research projects, arrangements for meetings, etc.

Southwood has contributed his own recollections of SWAP for inclusion in the collection. They are at L.1.

Surface Water Acidification Programme

- L.1 Confidential recollections, by Southwood, 16 October 1995.
- Earlier notes by Southwood on SWAP perhaps prepared for meeting, n.d.
- L.2 Minutes of First Meeting of the Management Group 23 November 1983, held at the Royal Society London. Southwood was Acting Chairman in the absence of Sir Maurice Sugden. Sugden died in January 1984 and Southwood became Chairman. Folder includes letter confirming his appointment March 1984.
- L.3 January - February 1984.
- Arrangements for meetings of Management Group in Stockholm 14-15 February and Oslo 16-17 February; lists of members of Management Group and terms of reference; Chairman's briefing (annotated); Southwood's notes on the meetings and on research project presentations; draft minutes; correspondence.
- L.4 Research programmes put forward by Scandinavian scientists and institutions at meeting in February 1984.
- L.5 June 1984.
- Minutes of meetings at research sites in Norway and Sweden 18-22 June, with note by C.O. Tamm and report on 'current state of research' by Programme Director, B.J. Mason.
- L.6 October 1984.
- Report on 'The current state of knowledge of acidification of surface waters and guidelines for further research', prepared for Management Group by B.J. Mason and H.M. Seip (annotated by Southwood).
- L.7-L.11 December 1984.
- Material for Management Group meeting in London 17-18 December.
- L.7 Agenda, Chairman's notes, note on finance.

Surface Water Acidification Programme

- L.8 Correspondence with colleagues before meeting, including list of research projects with comments and evaluations by Southwood and others.
- L.9 Correspondence arising from meeting.
- L.10 UK research proposals.
- L.11 Scandinavian research proposals.
- L.12, L.13 May 1985.
Material for Management Group meeting at Pitlochry Scotland 8-10 May 1985.
- L.12 Agenda, arrangements, list of research proposals (annotated).
- L.13 Research proposals, UK and Scandinavian (annotated).
- L.14 1985, 1986.
Correspondence and comments on the CEGB film 'Acid Rain'.
- L.15 18-19 February 1986.
Material for Management Group meeting at the Royal Society London.
Arrangements, brief correspondence, papers by Programme Director on 'SWAP research matched to its objectives' (a few annotations by Southwood) and 'Summary of Progress reports to end December 1985' (annotated by Southwood).
- L.16 22-26 June 1987.
Material for mid-term review meeting in Bergen Norway.
Correspondence 1985-1987 on conference arrangements and drafting of report on SWAP results after meeting.

WORKING PARTY ON BOVINE SPONGIFORM ENCEPHALOPATHY

M.1-M.61

Following the observation of Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy (BSE), a disease of the nervous system of cattle, in UK herds in 1985, and the growing concern in the farming and veterinary communities, a working party was set up in April 1988. This was a joint initiative of the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food (MAFF) and the Department of Health and Social Security (DHSS), later Department of Health (DOH). In April 1988, after an informal invitation by telephone, Southwood was asked by the then Chief Medical Officer (Sir Donald Acheson) to chair the working party. The other members were Sir Anthony Epstein, W.B. Martin and Sir John Walton. H. Pickles (DOH) and A.J. Lawrence (MAFF) were joint secretaries. After a preliminary meeting which Southwood attended at MAFF in May, the working party met on 20 June, 10 November and 16 December at the Zoology Department Oxford. Interim recommendations were made, and accepted, after each of these meetings, and the final report was published in February 1989.

Although this technically ended the task of the working party, the intense anxiety generated by the disease and its implications continued to grow, indeed to accelerate, and to acquire serious political dimensions. In consequence, Southwood found himself involved in official discussions, media contacts, and public and private correspondence from a wide spectrum.

Both sequences of correspondence and papers (M.1-M.34 and M.35-M.41) reflect these factors. The correspondence is conducted with ministers, civil servants and officials, scientific and medical colleagues, veterinarians, farmers, researchers and members of the general public. The content includes research findings, data and statistics supplied from official sources and institutions and by colleagues; committee papers, notes and information and correspondence arising; press releases, briefings, official announcements and the like. It is presented in chronological order; some letters and documents may appear in both sequences when Southwood had them copied for circulation or discussion at meetings.

The announcement in March 1996 of research findings suggesting a possible link between BSE and Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease (CJD) in humans heralded a new and urgent phase in approaches to BSE. As Chairman of the original 1989 Working Party, Southwood was involved in new research and publications as well as in official enquiries and many media presentations. Additional material relating to this period after March 1996, including his own notes, was made available by Southwood at a late stage and appears at M.46-M.54.

Working Party on Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy

M.1-M.34	WORKING PARTY CORRESPONDENCE AND PAPERS	1988-1996
M.1	March - April 1988. Early meeting, setting-up papers, invitation to Southwood to chair working party, membership, press release and briefing.
M.2	May 1988. Preliminary meeting 19 May, Southwood's list of 'key questions', brief correspondence.
M.3	May - June 1988. Arrangements for working party meeting on 20 June at Zoology Department Oxford and on legislation (includes Press Release on notifiable disease). Also includes Southwood's letter to MAFF after meeting, recommending setting up of expert working party on research, and destruction of infective animals (implemented July, with 50% compensation of market value being paid).
M.4	June 1988. Committee papers for meeting 20 June, some annotated by Southwood. Includes background material.
M.5	July 1988. Correspondence, note of 20 June meeting, arrangements for slaughter and compensation policy.
M.6	July 1988. News releases, statutory instruments on slaughter and compensation.
M.7	August - October 1988. General correspondence. Includes Southwood's outline for the working party report 3 October.
M.8	August - November 1988. Correspondence, principally with Chief Medical Officer, Department of Health, on setting-up and membership of an Advisory Group on research in relation to BSE, as proposed in Southwood's letter of 21 June. D.A.J. Tyrrell became chairman of the Advisory Group.
M.9	September 1988 - January 1989. Correspondence and papers, principally with Committee on Safety of Medicines (an advisory body of the Department of Health).

Working Party on Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy

- M.10 November 1988. Tagged folder of Committee papers for meeting of working party 10 November in Zoology Department Oxford. Includes data, statistics, correspondence, background material, draft report, all annotated by Southwood.
- M.11 November 1988. Miscellaneous papers, drafts and correspondence relating to meeting, annotated by Southwood.
- M.12 November 1988. Correspondence arising from meeting, note of meeting, Southwood's letters of thanks, miscellaneous material on drafts for report, MAFF announcement of further measures on milk and on feed ban, Q and A briefing. Also includes arrangement for meeting at MAFF with minister and others, on 24 November, not otherwise documented.
- M.13 December 1988 - January 1989. Arrangements and note of meeting 16 December at Zoology Department Oxford.
- M.14 December 1988 - January 1989. Correspondence arising from meeting
- M.15 December 1988 - February 1989. Correspondence and papers on drafts for report, comments on draft, arrangements for publication.
- M.16 February 1989. Publication of the report. Draft announcement, briefing material etc.
- M.17 March 1989. Letters of thanks from Ministers J. MacGregor (MAFF), K. Clarke (DHSS).
- M.18 March 1989. Press releases and a little correspondence on government's response to the report, and on the establishment of the consultative committee on research.
- M.19 May 1989. Correspondence, current data

Working Party on Bovine Spongiform Encephalopathy

- M.20 June - July 1989. Correspondence, press releases, research, data from MAFF.
- M.21 July - September 1989. Correspondence and information, mainly with M.A. Epstein, re Royal Society of Medicine conference on spongiform encephalopathies.
- M.22 August - November 1989. Meeting at MAFF 18 September, and related correspondence. Includes letter from W.B. Martin advising payment of 'full' compensation to farmers.
- M.23 January - February 1990. Correspondence, press release and copy of 'Tyrrell Report' on research, Q and A briefing.
- M.24 March 1990. MAFF data, Q and A briefing for Southwood's interview on BBC TV 'Horizon' programme.
- M.25 May - June 1990. Correspondence and papers relating to House of Commons Agriculture Committee on BSE. Southwood gave evidence to the Committee on 14 June. Includes corrected draft of Southwood's evidence. (Bibliog. 182).
- M.26 May - July 1990. Briefings, data, press releases.
- M.27 September 1990. Correspondence on Food Safety Advisory Centre's leaflet 'The facts about BSE', to which Southwood contributed a foreword.
- M.28 1991. Principally an update on BSE research and information.
- M.29 1992. Press releases, data.
- M.30 1993. Update, information, correspondence.

ROUND TABLE ON SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

N.1-N.39

The setting-up of the Round Table was announced in January 1994 by J.S. Gummer, then Secretary of State for the Environment. It was one of three bodies created in response to the 1989 'Earth Summit' at Rio de Janeiro, as set out in the Government White Paper Cmd 2426; the other two organisations were the Panel on Sustainable Development, chaired by Sir Crispin Tickell, and Going for Green chaired by Graham Ashworth.

Unlike the Panel on Sustainable Development, a small 'Think Tank' producing regular reports, the Round Table was a more diffuse body of about thirty members drawn from very diverse sources - industry, the trade unions, academia, social, consumer and environmental pressure groups; it extended its expertise through an even wider spectrum through the creation of sub-groups in addition to holding plenary meetings at roughly two-monthly intervals.

The concept of the Round Table was relatively new in the UK. Devising guidelines for its role, organisation and membership, its independence of government (J.S. Gummer was Secretary of State and Co-Chairman), and its relations with other UK and European environmental organisations required careful development. Various discussions and a seminar were held in 1994 and initially the 'Green Groups' were reluctant to participate. Southwood was approached about the co-chairmanship late in October 1994 and was involved in seeking their co-operation and in defining the Round Table's role in the short period before the 'required' start in January 1995. After the official launch regular meetings were held though methods of work remained fluid. An important meeting was a residential weekend at Merton College Oxford, 28-30 June 1996, at which aims and structure were discussed.

The original remit of the Round Table was for two years from January 1995. It was renewed, with some change of membership, for a further two years in December 1996. Southwood was Co-Chairman with J.S. Gummer from the inception of the Round Table until the General Election of May 1997; during that time, although Mr Gummer attended for part of every meeting, Southwood was in the Chair for most of all meetings. From July 1997 he was sole Chairman; J.L. Prescott, Deputy Prime Minister and Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions, became President.

Round Table on Sustainable Development

Southwood's own thoughts on the aims of the Round Table and the concept of sustainability are at N.1. Correspondence and papers, which cover the period January 1995 - August 1997, retain Southwood's ordering, distinguishing between correspondence with Ministers and MPs (N.2-N.6), with secretaries and officials of the Round Table (N.7-N.19) and with its members (N.20-N.34). This entails some measure of overlap in view of the topics under discussion and the relatively short timespan. All the material relates to meetings (including briefings), methods of work, projects proposed or in hand, reports and publications.

Material at N.35-N.39, a late addition to the collection, contains setting-up and preliminary papers July 1994 - January 1995.

The Round Table Secretary for most of this period was J. Adams. Other members of the secretariat were K.V. Cavill and P. Clapp.

Round Table on Sustainable Development

- N.1 Letters and memoranda by Southwood on the role, remit, membership and organisation of the Round Table, and his personal definition of views on sustainability: 20 November, 2 and 3 December 1994, 23 September 1995.

SECTION P

CENTRAL EUROPEAN UNIVERSITY

P.1-P.57

The Central European University (CEU) has been described by its founder, the international philanthropist George Soros, as the 'flagship' of the education programme of the Soros Foundations Network devoted to the Popperian concept of the 'open society'.

Soros's primary aim in establishing the CEU in Eastern Europe in 1990 was to address subjects which had been suppressed or distorted under the former 'closed society' of communism. A postgraduate institution with its main campus in Budapest, a branch campus in Prague and a department in Warsaw, the CEU is chartered under the laws of New York State. The language of instruction is English, the professoriat and teaching staff predominantly Western-educated, and the student body recruited mainly from Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union. Courses of study include law, economics, politics, history, sociology, medieval studies, history and philosophy of art, and environmental studies.

Soros visited Oxford in 1990 when he was planning to set up the CEU, and again in 1991 when he asked Southwood to become Chairman of the Steering Committee for the proposed environmental studies programme, and to run the summer school that year. Southwood continued to do so until 1994, becoming Head of the Department of Environmental Studies and Policy; during the period of his headship some 250 students passed through the department. His eventual successor as Head of Department was E. Bellenger; throughout the period 1992-1995 there was one permanent staff member, Dr. Z. Szocs, a Hungarian who was titled 'Research Director'. When in 1995 the Department offered an M. Sc. course accredited by Manchester University UK, Southwood was involved in devising and teaching the syllabus and monitoring the results.

The relatively diffuse grouping of campuses and programmes was formally recognised as a university under New York State laws in 1993. Soundings took place with Southwood for his appointment as Rector of the new university, and he had two (unrecorded) meetings with Soros, but in July 1993 he withdrew his informal acceptance. He continued as Head of Department and served on the newly-formed Senate until September 1995 when he resigned from his unpaid position, while continuing some teaching commitments as Visiting Professor. Alfred Stepan was appointed Rector and President in 1993 and served until 1996. His successor in 1997 was J. Jarab. Brief correspondence with Stepan and Jarab is included at P.19.

Central European University (CEU)

Many of the discussions and negotiations were informal or conducted by word of mouth, and there is little documentation for Southwood's career at the CEU. For this reason, his 'CEU Recollections and Reflections', included at P.2, are especially valuable.

P.33-P.57 LECTURES AND TEACHING 1991-1996

The Department of Environmental Sciences and Policy ran an annual programme of postgraduate summer schools from 1991 to 1994, for approximately sixty students from central and eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union.

The staff of visiting professors and teaching assistants was drawn from western and eastern European universities and institutions. Instruction was in English, and the programme included mandatory English-language classes.

From 1995 a one-year M.Sc. course in Environmental Sciences and Policy was introduced, accredited by the University of Manchester UK.

- P.52 Tables and diagrams for lecture or part of course, on environmental risks.

Central European University (CEU)

- P.53 Miscellaneous material related to course, including manuscript of Southwood's Williams lecture (E.142) on 'Animals and the genesis of human disease', adapted and shortened.
- P.54 Outline notes for lectures, on 'Basic applied ecology', 'Pest control' and 'Biological effects of water acidification'.
- P.55 Manuscript notes for two lectures on 'Environment problems and prospects'.
- P.56 'Senate lecture 5 November 1994' (on lead pollution), 5pp manuscript.
- P.57 Outline for lecture on 'Ecotourism', with a manuscript note 'CEU - 1995'.

SECTION R

CORRESPONDENCE

R.1-R.403

The folders in the main sequence of scientific and general correspondence are essentially concerned with entomological research in hand or projected, in the UK or abroad. They may include ideas, drafts or data for research and publications, some in collaboration, arrangements for short or long term visits to Southwood's departments, conferences and meetings, career and appointments. Some personal news may be included. Many of Southwood's colleagues worked for various periods overseas and their correspondence contains information on tropical pest research or similar topics.

Some of the correspondence is of early date, when Southwood was a schoolboy or embarking on his career; some of these formative influences were C.G. Johnson, W.J. Le Quesne, A.M. Massee and H.K.A. Shaw.

The shorter scientific correspondence at R.347-R.373 is similar in content but less developed. Briefer exchanges such as requests for reprints, advice and information appear at R.374-R.403.

R.1-R.346 SCIENTIFIC AND GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE

In alphabetical order, dated and indexed, with an indication of information of particular biographical, scientific or historical interest.

R.347-R.373 SHORTER SCIENTIFIC CORRESPONDENCE

Indexed, in alphabetical order.

| | Correspondence on the Julian Huxley Memorial Fund. Southwood was a sponsor. | |

R.131	Ibbotson, A.	1956-1967
	Work mainly on frit fly, at University of Durham at Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Almost all incoming letters.
R.132	Jackson, R.	1984-1993
	Robert Jackson MP was Parliamentary Under Secretary of State, Department of Education and Science, 1987-1990.
	Science policy and funding.
R.133	Janzen, D. H.	1977, 1984-1985
	Janzen was Professor of Biology at the University of Pennsylvania.
	Correspondence 1977 is about request to Southwood (declined) to contribute to volume on 'Interrelationship of secondary plant constituents with herbivores'.
	Correspondence 1984-1985. Includes Janzen's review of Insects on plants (Bibliog. 136) and correspondence arising.
R.134, R.135	Javahery, M. and others	1973-1989
	Javahery, an Iranian entomologist, was a Ph.D. student at Imperial College Silwood Park 1963-1967. He returned to Iran but left for political reasons and later worked in Canada.
	Research, career and appointments.
R.134		1973-1981.
R.135		1982-1989.
R.136	Jepson, W. F.	1955-1968
	Jepson was Reader in Applied Entomology at Silwood Park; Southwood's first appointment there was to work with him on the frit fly. Several papers resulted in the late 1950s and early 1960s (Bibliog. 30, 32, 33, 41, 42, 43). He left to enter industry (Cyanamid) but returned as an Honorary Lecturer after retirement.

R.150 1962-1972.

R.151 1972-1975.

R.152 1976-1989.

R.153 Kennedy, J. S. 1960-1962, 1967, 1993

Kennedy worked on animal behaviour, first in Cambridge with V.B. Wigglesworth, then - through Southwood's intervention - at Imperial College Silwood Park and on retirement, again at Southwood's invitation, at the Oxford Department of Zoology.

Correspondence 1960-1962 contains detailed comments on papers and publications by Southwood, Kennedy and others.

Correspondence 1993 includes manuscript of Southwood's address at memorial service for Kennedy in 1993.

Killick-Kendrick worked at Imperial College as a member of the Medical Research Council External Scientific Staff, working on sandflies and leishmaniasis.

Research plans and results. Some personal correspondence.

R.155-R.158 King, G. M. and others 1975-1994

King was an undergraduate and later (1980) a Departmental Demonstrator in the Oxford Department of Zoology. Her D.Phil. work, on fossil reptiles, was based in the Natural History Museum, Oxford to which she returned in 1982 as Assistant Curator of the Zoological Collections. She held this post from 1983 in conjunction with a Tutorial Fellowship at St. Hilda's College in succession to B. Dainton. In 1987 she took two years unpaid leave to accept a post at the South African Museum, Cape Town.

The earlier stages of King's career, which took place before Southwood's appointment in Oxford, were handled by his predecessor J.W.S. Pringle.

Research proposals, reports, applications, career and appointments.

| R.164-R.167 | Lawton, J. H. and others | 1970-1991 |
| | Lawton, an ecologist specialising in bracken and its herbivores, was based for many years at the University of York. He later moved to Imperial College Silwood Park to the Chair of Community Ecology and Directorship of the Interdisciplinary Research Centre in Population Biology. | |
| | He, D.A. Strong and Southwood collaborated on Insects on plants (Bibliog. 136). | |
| | Research, publications, funding, career and appointments. | |

Correspondence

- R.164 1970-1982. Includes research proposals on bracken.
- R.165 1983-1984. Mainly about Insects on plants.
- R.166 1984-1986.
- R.167 1987-1991. Includes invitation to Southwood to serve on Management Committee of the International Research Centre in Population Biology at Silwood Park.
- R.168 Lee, R. L. G. 1972-1984
Lee was a postgraduate student, funded by the Natural Environment Research Council, at Imperial College 1969-1974, later taking up appointments as a lecturer at Accra Ghana and Aston Birmingham before working as a consultant.
Career and appointments.
- R.169 Lees, A. D. 1987
Lees was a colleague of J.S. Kennedy (q.v.) at Cambridge University and Imperial College Silwood Park.
Brief correspondence only.
- R.170 Le Quesne, W. J. 1952-1961, 1984-1986
Early correspondence (incoming letters and cards only) on identification and classification of specimens.
- R.171-R.174 Lewis, T. 1960-1992
Southwood first met Lewis at Flatford Mill, Suffolk on a field ecology course. Lewis took his Ph.D. at Imperial College and after a period (1958-1961) at the Cambridge University School of Agriculture moved to Rothamsted Experimental Station where he became successively Head of Entomology, Deputy Director and Director.
Research, career and appointments.

R.171	1960-1967. Incoming letters and cards. Mainly research on thrips.
R.172	1975-1977.
R.173	1983-1987.
R.174	1992. Mainly on the Rothamsted International fund-raising campaign and affairs of the Lawes Trust (Southwood was Chairman).

Correspondence

- R.180 Massee, A. M. 1947-1963
- Massee was Head of Entomology Section, East Malling Research Station, Kent.
- The correspondence dates from January 1947 when Southwood was 15. The letters, almost all incoming and hand-written, are chiefly concerned with the collecting and identification of specimens and the publication of species lists of British Hemiptera-Heteroptera.
- R.181 May, R. M. 1976-1994
- General correspondence on research, publications, May's Visiting Professorship at Imperial College etc.
- R.182 Mayr, E. 1987-1988, 1993
- R.183 Mellanby, K. 1959-1967, 1983, 1991
- Mellanby was for many years Head of Entomology at Rothamsted Experimental Station (Southwood was completing the last few months of his period there when Mellanby was first appointed), later Director of the Nature Conservancy Monks Wood Experimental Station.
- He was instrumental in arranging the publication by Methuen of Southwood's Ecological Methods and also proposed Southwood for the Athenaeum Club when he was appointed to the Chair at Imperial College in 1967.
- Correspondence mainly on publications.
- R.184 Metcalf, J. R. 1963-1967, 1974
- Metcalf was a specialist in sugar cane pests. Southwood contributed an article to Pests of sugar cane, edited by Metcalf and others (Bibliog. 74).
- R.185 Miller, P. L. 1960-1970
- Work in Uganda; expedition to New Hebrides.

| | Comments by Southwood on Mitchell's paper 'Reflections on global climate change'. | |
| R.190, R.191 | Moorhouse, J. E. | 1980-1991 |
| | Moorhouse was officer-in-charge of the Agriculture and Food Research Council Insect Physiology Group at Imperial College Silwood Park, later moving to Reading University. | |
| | Correspondence is mainly about the work and future of the Group, which was disbanded when funding ceased in 1987. | |
| R.190 | 1980-1987. Includes research statements and reports. | |
| R.191 | 1991. | |

Correspondence

- R.192-R.196 Moran, V. C. 1973-1995
- Moran, a South African entomologist, worked at Rhodes University, Grahamstown and later at the University of Cape Town where he became Dean of the Faculty of Science. His research was on insect/plant relationships.
- Moran and Southwood enjoyed very friendly personal and professional relations. Moran, who held a British Council postdoctoral scholarship as an Academic Visitor at Imperial College Silwood Park 1974-1975, hosted Southwood's visit to Grahamstown in 1979 (see H.32) and paid several visits to Britain. One of these, to the Oxford Department of Zoology 1980-1981, resulted in collaborative papers (Bibliog. 123, 125, 127).
- Research, visits, funding, career and appointments.
- R.192 1973-1975. Arrangements for Moran's visit to Imperial College Silwood Park 1974-1975.
- R.193 1976-1977.
- R.194 1979-1983. Includes arrangements for Moran to visit the Oxford Department of Zoology as an Academic Visitor funded by a BP Postgraduate Scholarship in Agriculture 1980-1981.
- R.195 1984-1987. Includes Moran's appointment as Dean of Science from January 1986 at Cape Town University, in view of which he cancelled provisional arrangements for a Visiting Research Fellowship at Merton College Oxford.
- R.196 1991-1995.
- R.197, R.198 Moratorio, M. S. 1975-1991
- Moratorio, a Uruguayan, was a British Council supported postgraduate student at Imperial College Silwood Park. His supervisors were Ilse Walker and subsequently Southwood. He later worked in Venezuela but left for political reasons and settled in California.
- Personal and scientific correspondence, on research and career.
- R.197 1975-1977. Arrangements, funding etc. for work at Silwood Park.

Correspondence

R.252 Schaefer, C. W. 1960-1962, 1978, 1987

R.253 Schofield, C. J. 1970-1983

Schofield was an undergraduate at Imperial College, later a medical entomologist specialising in vectors of Chagas disease.

R.254-R.260 Scudder, G. G. E. 1954-1992

Scudder, like Southwood a former pupil of Gravesend Grammar School and a summer student at Rothamsted Experimental Station, studied at University College of Wales, Aberystwyth, and as a graduate student at the Hope Department of Zoology, Oxford. From 1958 he was at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, becoming Professor and Head of Department. He wrote two collaborative papers with Southwood in 1956 (Bibliog. 17, 21).

Letters and cards 1954-1958 are all hand-written by Scudder, often very frequent, on research, identification of specimens etc. None of Southwood's letters survive for this period, though it seems he was also a regular correspondent.

- R.263 Shorrocks, B. 1985, 1991
- Research on Drosophila.
- R.264 Singer, M. C. 1985-1990
- An Oxford graduate, Singer completed a Ph.D. in butterfly ecology at Stanford under P.R. Ehrlich. On the latter's recommendation Southwood appointed him to a temporary post at Silwood Park. From there he returned to the University of Texas at Austin (where Southwood visited in 1977, see H.29). A Professor at Texas, he frequently visited Southwood, whom he addresses as 'Uncle Sir Dick', in Oxford and at Southwood's cottage in France.
- Research on 'preference' in plant-feeding insects.
- R.265, R.266 Slater, J. A. 1951-1994
- Slater worked at Iowa State College and, from 1954, at the University of Connecticut. To mark Slater's retirement in 1988, Southwood used a montage of their correspondence, including the original 1951 letter which 'inaugurated our long professional and personal friendship'.

S.1-S.15 OXFORD UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGY 1978-1992

This material relates to D.Phil. students supervised by Southwood (sometimes in collaboration) at Oxford. The folders may include applications to come to Oxford, grants and funding, departmental and college arrangements, overseas travel, conference attendance, schedules and research plans, supervisor's reports, subsequent career and appointments. Correspondence, notes, appraisals and comments by Southwood and by others are also included.

These folders were kept together by Southwood. Other references to Ph.D. and D.Phil. students whom he advised, supervised or examined at Imperial College and at Oxford may be found passim in the correspondence files or elsewhere in the collection.

	Southwood was frequently asked to advise the University and its constituent colleges on appointments and promotions, sometimes on an ad hoc basis and sometimes in a more formalised way as 'Internal' and later 'External Expert' on a Board of Advisers. Material includes invitations, correspondence, recommendations. His continuing link with Imperial College is shown by the high proportion of requests received from or relating to the College.

	Professor Erich Martin Hering of Berlin was a world authority on leafminers, more particularly of the family Agromyzidae. On his death he left money to provide annual grants to support work on leafminers, the bequest being administered by the British Entomological and Natural History Society, formerly the South London Entomological and Natural History Society (q.v.) which Southwood had joined at the age of 15. The Hering awards are made via a small committee, on which Southwood served, preference being given to projects on Agromyzidae and other leafminers. The first secretary of the committee was A. Maitland Emmet; his successor, from 1985, was M.J. Scoble. A fuller account of the Hering Fund and its administration, written by Southwood for the collection, is at A.7.
